BAFA-funding: move technology's customers are now able to profit from attractive subsidies for consulting projects

Since January 2024, move technology GmbH has been officially listed as a recognized consulting company at BAFA (Federal Office of Economics and Export Control). Customers of move technology who have commissioned consulting services from move technology thus receive access to attractive subsidies of up to 80% of the project volume. This funding is available for small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs).

"We are delighted to be listed with BAFA. Smaller companies are often operating in a cost-sensitive environment. On the other hand, in these dynamic times of change, they often need strategic support and targeted external challenges. We can now offer such companies an attractive way to access the services and expertise of move technology," says Dr. Jörn Seebode, Managing Director of move technology.
